"1965-66 OUTLOOK"

By: Coach Dave DeBusschere

Two factors encourage me as the Pistons prepare to embark on the 1965-66 season:

1. The complete recovery of Ray Scott's ankle.
2. The strength we expect to receive from our new faces.

Scott was in the midst of, perhaps, his finest season since joining the Pistons when he was injured in a game with Los Angeles last winter. Although he was able to rejoin us, the injury continued to bother him and he was never the Scott we had seen earlier in the campaign.

With Ray back at full strength, he figures to give us the scoring and rebounding punch we so need. Also, it should be noted that Scott is one of the best playmaking forwards in the NBA.

As for our rookies, I feel that at least three of them -- Bill Buntin (Michigan), Tom Van Arsdale (Indiana), and Bill Chmielewski (Dayton) -- all stand an excellent chance of making our team and from what I have heard Ron Reed (Notre Dame) and Barry Smith (High Point) also have the stuff that could make them NBA players.

We are going to need help because Terry Dischinger, our top scorer last season, has been called to military duty and will be lost to the team for the next two years, and Hub Reed retired at the close of last season.

Bill Buntin and Tom Van Arsdale should prove valuable additions at our forward slots where we have Joe Caldwell, Don Kojis and Jack Moreland returning in addition to myself. With the loss of Dischinger, I think that I may move myself back to a guard position which would not be strange to me since Dick McGuire used me there back in my rookie year in the NBA.

Chmielewski could prove most valuable with Reed's retirement as we have no back up center for Reggie Harding. Chmielewski is a Detroit boy who appears to be very serious on making the team which he has shown by working all summer to bring his weight down from 250 to 235.

Our returning guards, with valuable pro experience, are Rod Thorn, Eddie Miles and Donnis Butcher. Eddie had a tremendous season for us a year ago and there is no reason why he can't continue to blossom into an NBA star. Rod proved very valuable as our third guard and did a fine job in making the Club run.

As for the Western Division race, I look for Baltimore to have the edge on the championship and a dog-fight between Los Angeles, Detroit, San Francisco and St. Louis for the other two playoff spots.

FRED ZOLLNER

Basketball Pioneer

Detroit Pistons' President Fred Zollner is one of the pioneers of major league basketball, organizing his first professional team in 1941 as an entry in the National Basketball League.

Success on the basketball floor was not long in coming to the president of the Fort Wayne piston-manufacturing corporation that bears his name. Bolstered by such stars as Bobby McDermott, Paul Birch and Buddy Jeannette (now General Manager of the Baltimore Bullets), the Pistons won the National Basketball League Championship four straight years (1943 through 1946) and captured three world tournaments (1944-1945 and 1946) in Chicago Stadium, then recognized as the pinnacle of pro cage fame.

Zollner and his Pistons led three other N.B.L. teams into the Basketball Association of America in 1948 and the following year joined the National Basketball Association, an amalgamation of the old N.B.L. and the rival B.A.A.

In 1954-55, the Pistons won their first Western Division Championship even though forced to play all playoff games on neutral or opponents' courts due to the presence of the American Bowling Congress tournament at Fort Wayne Coliseum, then the Pistons' home base. After hurdling Minneapolis in the semi-finals for the divisional flag, the Pistons extended Eastern Champion Syracuse to the full seven games before bowing in the title game, 92-91.

The Pistons repeated as Western Division Champions in 1955-56 and were beaten in the World Championship playoffs by Philadelphia.

Despite two consecutive divisional pennants, attendance at Fort Wayne failed to improve and Zollner decided to move his club to a city with major league standards. He decided to wait, however, until after the 1956-57 season, which saw the Pistons share first place in the regular season race with St. Louis and Minneapolis, then bow in the first round of the playoffs.

Through his long affiliation with automotive leaders in Detroit, and because of his firm belief that the Motor City is the world's finest sports town, Zollner negotiated to bring the Pistons to Detroit in the spring of 1957.

In the eight years the Pistons have played in Detroit, they have strived through rebuilding, to bring the Motor City its first Championship in the National Basketball Association.

EARL LLOYD - CHIEF SCOUT

Earl Lloyd knows his way around the National Basketball Association. The likeable 37-year old graduate of West Virginia State played in the NBA for nine seasons before retiring at the start of the 1961-62 seasen. No sooner did he hang up his shoes as an active performer than the Pistons signed him to scout and help McGuire.

Lloyd never was a high-average scorer in the NBA. In fact, only once did he hit double figures. But few could match him defensively and he was rough to stop when sent into a game on a spot assignment.

He broke into the NBA with Washington in 1950-51, but his career was interrupted by the Selective Service draft. In 1952 he joined the Syracuse Nats. He remained with the Nats until 1958-59 when Lloyd came to the Pistons.

As the Pistons' head scout, Lloyd travels thousands of miles to check future prospects. Based on what he sees hinge many of the selections the Pistons make at the draft of collegiate stars.

Earl and his wife have two sons and have made the Motor City their permanent home.

GEORGE MASKIN

ASSISTANT EXECUTIVE MANAGER

PUBLICITY

A veteran Detroit newspaperman, Maskin served on the Detroit Times sports staff for more than 25 years until the paper suspended operations in 1959. He joined the Pistons in January, 1960.

Maskin performs multiple duties for the Pistons -- handles publicity, the team's travel arrangements, the regular and exhibition schedules, the Pistons Official Game Magazine, etc.

He was a well-known sports official for many years, umpiring in baseball and refereeing in basketball and football.

Maskin and his wife have two sons and one daughter.

TRAINER

The dean of all trainers in the National Basketball Association. He spent twelve years with the New York Knickerbockers before coming to Detroit where he is now starting his third year.

He is a native Detroiter who starred in football and basketball at De La Salle High School. He later became one of the city's top bowlers and carried an average of 200 before becoming a trainer.

Don served as trainer one season for the Richmond, Virginia, team when the club was the No. 1 farm club of the New York Yankees.

During the off season, Friederichs and his wife run the Burkemo's Motel located on Lake St. Clair, two miles north of St. Clair, Michigan.

MEET THE COACH - DAVE DE BUSSCHERE

Sport's busiest man. That's Dave DeBusschere who knows no such thing as a day off -- or a vacation.

DeBusschere spends half the year performing as the player-coach of the Detroit Pistons Basketball Club. As soon as his cage work is completed, DeBusschere switches to baseball. He hurled for Indianapolis of the Pacific Coast League (top Chicago White Sox farm club) this past season. If time permitted, DeBusschere very well might be a golf star. During his infrequent visits to the links, he shoots in the high 70's.

The hectic sports schedule has been part of DeBusschere's life since his grade school days in Detroit. He made the big sports headlines very early when he enrolled at Austin High on the Motor City's east side.

Besides leading Austin to city and state titles in basketball and the Catholic League crown in baseball, DeBusschere covered himself with personal honors be winning All-Catholic, All-City and All-State honors on the hardwoods and attracting scouts from every major league club to watch him in baseball.

When his prep days ended, DeBusschere picked the University of Detroit from more than 50 schools of higher learning. At U. of D., DeBusschere helped write the three greatest years the Titans have known both in basketball and baseball.

Thrice the Titans gained post-season tourneys in basketball -- the first two years U. of D. went to the National Invitational; as a senior, Detroit landed in the NCAA. In baseball, the strong-armed DeBusschere paced the Titans into three straight NCAA district tourneys. Once the Detroiters reached the finals against Minnesota.

DeBusschere was made the Pistons No. 1 draft choice in 1962 and provided the spark from mid-December on, when the Pistons played at better than a .500 clip to make the playoffs. The following season, his action with the Pistons was limited to 15 games due to a fractured leg.

Last year DeBusschere was back with the Detroit cagers and -- after 11 games -- he was named the team's interim coach. The fact that he had become the youngest coach in the history of the National Basketball Association and one of the youngest ever to guide any major league team, didn't affect his performances on the court.

His averaged swelled to 16.7 points per game. He finished as the team's second highest rebounder and was No. 1 in the assist department. Under him, the Pistons won 29 games, while losing 40.

DeBusschere received a bonus estimated at $65,000 from the Chicago White Sox in 1962. He spent his first year in organized baseball with the Savannah, Ga., farm club, the next with the Chisox and the last two with Indianapolis. The experts insist DeBusschere has a "major league arm" and should make it in the Major League soon.

The 25-year old DeBusschere, who still makes his home on Detroit's east side, is single.

DONNIS BUTCHER

Donnis hails from Pikeville (Kentucky) College. He stands 6'3", weighs 200, age - 29. He is starting his fourth year in the NBA. Donnis broke in with New York in 1961-62. He came to Pistons in 1963-64. He has an overall six point average as a pro. Recognized around the NBA as the "hardnosed type" player who can come off the bench in a substitute's capacity and get the job done. Regarded as fine coaching timber for the future. He's a thorough student of the game of basketball and assisted Dave DeBusschere in handling the Pistons last season. Donnis is solid on defense and excellent playmaker. He has spent the past two summers serving as an instructor at boys' camp near Caro, Michigan. Married, two children.

EDDIE MILES

Eddie hails from Seattle University. He stands 6'4", weighs 196. Found his own with Pistons last season in his sophomore campaign in the NBA after a poor rookie year. Averaged only 5.4 points in initial year with Detroit, but once he got a chance to play regularly in 1964-65, Miles caught fire and he finished the season with a 13.7 average. Now figures prominently in the Pistons' plans for the coming season. A speedster and solid defensive performer. Excellent shot from the outside. At Seattle Miles earned the title of the "Man with the Golden Arm" as he averaged 21.3, 22.3 and 25.8 points. Miles, his wife and four children make their home now in Detroit. Has attended U. of D. in off season to complete work toward a degree in accounting.

JACK MORELAND

Jack hails from Louisiana Tech. He stands 6'7", weighs 215. He's the dean of all Pistons players, starting his sixth season with the team. Walter Dukes is the only other played to last six seasons with the Pistons. Has been used chiefly as a reserve forward during his NBA record. Excellent man to have on deck for fast-breaking attacks. His overall NBA average stands at 7.7 points. Made small-college All-American in Louisiana Tech after scoring 5030 points in 3½ seasons in high school play in Minden, Louisiana. Primarily a left-handed shooter. Jack makes his home in Royal Oak, Michigan, and has become a very successful insurance salesman in the off season. Married, one daughter and expecting a second child in the near future.

RAY SCOTT

Hails from Portland Univ., stands 6'9", weighs 215. One of many NBA greats (Chamberlain, Hightower, Rodgers, Gola) who grew up and played their schoolboy basketball in the same area in Philadelphia. Now in his fifth season with the Pistons. Average to date in NBA stands at 15.7 points and 11 rebounds. Also ranks as one of the top play-making cornermen in the League. Spent 3 seasons with Allentown in Eastern League before coming to the Pistons. Hampered by a foot injury last season, but now completely recovered. Has spent the past summer working as a public relations man for a Detroit brewery and also serving on the faculty of a basketball camp in Caro. One of key performers in Pistons' plans for 1965-66 season.

ROD THORN

Hails from West Virginia University. Stands 6'4", weighs 195. Third major-league guard to come out of West Virginia. First was Rod Hundley, then great Jerry West. Broke into NBA with Baltimore in 1964-65 and averaged 14.4 points. Hit at an 11-points clip for the Pistons last season. A good defensive player who "takes charge" when the opposition has the ball. Excellent shooter from 20-30 foot range. In addition to making All-American basketball teams at West Virginia, Rod was also a standout in baseball. Had several offers to turn professional in baseball, but he decided to give up the sport when he suffered an injury. Rod's dad formerly was a minor league pitcher. Thorn attended West Va. State this past summer to complete work on his degree. Married.

BILL BUNTIN

Stands 6'7", weighs 230, age 22. A product of Detroit Northern High. Buntin made All-Big Ten in each of his three seasons at Michigan, one of the few times in history this feat has been accomplished. He also made Fourth District-NCAA as a junior and senior in leading Michigan to two Big Ten titles and to the NCAA semifinals in 1964 and this past year's NCAA finals. In his 3 seasons at Michigan he averaged 21.8 points and 13.1 rebounds. An excellent shooter, he averaged better than 45 percent from the floor in his final two seasons. A power on defense and a tiger under the backboards. Figures to help the Pistons both as a center and cornerman.

BARRY SMITH

Graduate of High Point College in North Carolina. Stands 6'2", weighs 180, age - 22. Played four years on the High Points varsity with averages of 10.9, 11.9, 11.6 and 15.2, respectively. Was fastest man on team and his chief value, said Coach Tom Quinn, was Smith's fine ball handling, passing and defensive play. Made All-Carolinas Conference first team in each of last three years, also All NAIA District teams the same years. Was voted on the North Carolina Collegiate All-State team last year and honorable mention on Little All-Americas in 1964 and 1965. Was most valuable player on his team as senior.

TOM VAN ARSDALE

Pistons' second draft choice. Stands 6'5", weighs 210. Half of the famed Van Arsdale twins who have starred for the last three years at Indiana University and before that gained All-State and All-American high school honors at Indianapolis Manual. Until reporting to the Pistons, the Van Arsdales never have been split up for more than three days. Both have recently returned from a European trip where they played with other college stars on a State Department-sponsored tour. Averaged 12.5, 21.3 and 18.4 in his three seasons at Indiana. Brother Dick averaged 12.2, 23.3 and 17.2. A dedicated competitor, Tom drives well, is a fine feeder and an excellent rebounder.
